VOL. XX—No. 66. CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1919. TWO CENTS

SUGGESTS PURCHASE OF FIRE APPARATUS BY RURAL DISTRICTS

To be Located at Common Center For Use in Emergency

AVAILABLE FOR SMALL TOWNS

Mr. Howe, a representative of the Howe Fire Apparatus company, of Anderson, Ind., was in Washington on Tuesday, in conference with Fire Chief Curran, in regard to the possibility of the purchase of a fire truck and apparatus by the rural districts of the county for use in case of fire in the country. The proposition which has been tried very successfully in various country districts, meets with the approval of the Washington fire chief, who is anxious to see it tried.

The proposition of Mr. Howe is that country districts pay for the equipment, which would be placed in charge of the Washington fire department, to answer any and all calls that might be made by any of the rural districts. The advancement in fire protection for cities and towns the past few years have been great, but for smaller towns and country districts very little has been done until quite recently.

Mr. Howe, before returning, expected to visit Bentleyville, which recently organized a volunteer fire company and which proposes to buy fire equipment. Bentleyville citizens, it is understood, are determined to have better fire protection in the future, as two very destructive fires in the past have caused a great loss to property in that town.

The plan proposed by Mr. Howe has been advanced in a slightly different form by Chief Fleming of the Charleroi department, who submitted his ideas to the people of Bentleyville for consideration. By the plan he offered small towns would have but a small investment in equipment while at the same time they would be able to command the support and efforts of other towns which would have a full fighting equipment.

EVERYTHING FREE AT K. OF C. HUT

One of the features of the day was the Knights of Columbus "hut" on the railroad property opposite Fourth street. This "hut" typical of the service maintained in France for the soldiers of the A. E. F., was erected by Charleroi Council, No. 956, K. of C. and was in charge of James McKenna of Monessen council, who only recently returned from overseas duty as a K. of C. secretary.

With his assistants Mr. McKenna was kept busy throughout the day handing out cigarettes, candy, chocolates, chewing gum and matches to the soldiers, all of which were furnished absolutely free to the boys in khaki. This feature was strongly emphasizes by the K. of C. in France, where it adopted the slogan "everything free" and where the "doughboys" as well as all other men in the service could get a smoke or a piece of chocolate at a time when it did the most good.

The soldiers certainly appreciated the innovation and warmly praised the local council for its thoughtfulness.

HERRINGTON GOES HOME AFTER SHOOTING

Isaac Herrington, who was shot by his wife at their home in West Brownsville last Friday evening, has recoverel from the bullet wound and is able to be out again. He returned to West Brownsville Tuesday from the home of his parents in Charleroi, where he had been since his removal from the Brownsville hospital last Saturday afternoon. The bullet which struck him in the back has not yet been removed. Mrs. Herrington is still in the Washington jail, where she was lodged last Saturday to await the outcome of the shooting.

DECORATIONS WERE BEST WE HAVE HAD

The decorations along the streets of Charleroi, both on buildings as at advantageous points on the avenues, were probably never before excelled in the history of the town. The decorations were so placed as to show to the best advantage, and standing either on Fallowfield or McKean and looking along these avenues, one was impressed with the symmetry as well as the beauty and effectiveness of the display. It is true there were some bare spots along the streets, but that is always to be expected, sometimes due to conditions over which people have no control, while in other cases where other motives prompted the absence of the national colors.

As a whole, however, it is doubtful if we ever had a more complete or a more effective display, and it made the hearts of the soldier boys, whether of home or abroad, and the citizens of the community as well, glad to see such a generous display of bunting as grace the streets today. The work so splendidly accomplished showed that the decorating committee was active in arranging for the work they had in hand, and that they completed the duties assigned to them to the complete satisfaction of all.

Rev. C. A. Hartung and family, who have been spending a portion of their vacation visiting with friends in Charleroi, left this afternoon at 4:08 for their home in Johnstown. Mr. Hartung will resume his pastoral duties on Sunday next.

All Records Are Broken For Total Road Mileage

Harrisburg, August 20.—If the automotive equipment and horse drawn vehicles employed this summer by the maintenance forces of the State Highway department were placed in parade formation the procession would be six and one-third miles in length.

Not only has the State Highway department broken all records in the total road mileage advertised for construction and in the total of new mileage on which construction has begun, but in the maintenance forces of the department during the 1919 season will have completed more work than in any previous year in the history of the State.

The maintenance division this year had under its direct care and supervision 10,000 miles of roadway in Pennsylvania. This mileage includes State highways and State-aid highways.

The opening of the repair season this year found the roadways of Pennsylvania in a much cut-up condition because of the tremendous traffic occasioned by transportation of war material and foodstuffs. During 1918 the energies of the department were specially directed toward the upkeep of these trans-Pennsylvania Highways over which the hundreds of army truck trains and convoys traveled to the eastern seaboard. This year, however, the maintenance forces have been at work on the entire mileage of roads under their jurisdiction and reports from all sections of Pennsylvania to the effect that the Highways have never been in better condition.

As an example of its activities, the maintenance division received this season over 800 oiling authorizations. These authorizations covered approximately 1,700 miles of roadway. At the peak of the season's work, 37 oiling trucks were engaged in different portions of Pennsylvania. The wet July interfered with the oiling program, which, had the weather permitated, would have been completed July 15. Oiling is now about finished and when the last truck is called in from the road, the maintenance division will have applied over 5,000,000 gallons of oil.

A thousand teams of horses, 100 steam rollers, 120 trucks and 120 dump wagons were used in maintenance work during the 1919 season. In addition to the 1000 team drivers and the several hundred men required for the steam rollers and trucks, the maintenance division employed 4,800 other men. These men handled 750,000 tons of stone in entirely resurfacing 250 miles of highway and 150,000 tons used insurface treatments. This was a total of 900,000 tons of stone. Much of this material was prepared in the State Highway department's own quarries where 40 rock crushers were at work. One of the principal quarries is at St. Thomas, Franklin county, where recently 4,000 pounds of dynamite were fired in one shot, bringing down thousands of tons of limestone.

MANY FOREIGNERS RETURN TO EUROPE

There is a strong movement among the alien population of the coke region to return to Europe. One steamship agency manager said last week "We could sell 2000 tickets to clients who have bespoken passage within 24 hours if they could get passports and the prohibitory laws are an important impelling motive."

Employment agencies from other states have had representatives in the coke region seeking help, but have not been flattered by their successes. The emigration of aliens has affected industry in all sections.

The disordered conditions in Czecho Slovakia, Poland and other Central European countries having diplomatic representatives in this country, brings refusal to all applications for passports. Italians and Horvats are returning in large numbers. The Italian and Jugo-Slav consulates issuing passports freely.

The nations lately at war with the United States have no diplomatic representatives here, so that no pass-

15TH ENGINEERS TO BUILD CLUBHOUSE

Former members of the Fifteenth Engineers will build a clubhouse. At the second regular meeting of the Pittsburgh Pioneers, as they now call themselves, in the Century Building, decided to co-operate with their fathers, who originally planned to give the boys a club house on their return from France.

Before leaving Bordeaux the soldiers formed their club. When the regiment returned to Pittsburgh rooms in the Century building were turned over to them as a gift from the fathers.

Upon presentation of resolutions in the Central Labor Union of Washington, asking that the high cost of living be investigated, Washington Borough council Tuesday evening appointed a committee to make an inquiry into local conditions and determine whether or not merchants are profiteering at the expense of the public.

WEBSTER SAID TO BE AN OASIS IN LOCAL PROHIBITION DESERT

Many Auto Parties Visit Little Town To Get Stimulant

NOTED INCREASE OF DRUNKS

Following an increase in the number of persons arrested in both Monessen and Webster during the past two weeks, an investigation has been quietly going on and according to Chief of Police Smedley of Donora the greater part of the liquor is being purchased in Webster, directly opposite the big steel town.

It is stated that large quantities of whiskey and a concoction of still stronger per cent alcohol is being sold openly in the little mining town, and word has been passed around in the valley, attracting large crowds to the town every night. Auto parties make frequent trips to the town, and suspicion was aroused when long lines of automobiles were found standing for hours along the roadway.

Officials of Westmoreland county have been notified of the oasis and it is expected that officials from Greensburg will soon be on the scene to conduct an investigation. Good bonded whiskey was being disposed of at $7 a quart and even at this price found many customers.

During the past week fully a dozen arrests were made in Monessen for drunkenness, and similar conditions have prevailed in Donora, but the prisoners were rather reluctant about telling where they secured their supply of booze.

It is known that both hard cider and whiskey are being sold, but the supply was so small that it had to be used sparingly, until the word was passed around of the discovery of a regular oasis, and many laboring under a long thirst took on too great a load and were unable to make the return trip home without falling by the wayside.

MARRIED SATURDAY IN GREENVILLE

Miss Margaret Turnbull and Mr. John Roberts were married Saturday evening, August 16th, 1919, at the Episcopal church, Greenville, Pa., by the Rev. Howard Sutton, the ring ceremony being used. Mr. and Mrs. Adam Turnbull, Jr., of Greenville, were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are spending their honeymoon in Greenville and in Ohio. They will go to housekeeping at Monessen on their return.

HIGH SPOTS IN NEW AUTO LAWS

Although motorists have been given several views of the essentials of the new automobile law, the two automobile laws approved have important features.

One is a code governing the licensing and operation of all motor vehicles, and the other regulates the sale and transfer of second-hand care. Both are effective at once.

The State Highway Department which is charged with the various duties in connection with them, is preparing to enforce the provisions. The new regstration fees, however, are effective January 1.

The code allows a speed of 30 miles an hour on open roads and fifteen miles in built-up communities. Use of cut-outs is forbidden. The registraton fees are to be 40 cents per horsepower. wth a minimum of $10 for automobles. Motor trucks are licensed by classes. according to weight from $20 to $150, the latter being of 10 000-pound chassis.

Truck lengths are limited to 28 feet, width to 90 inches, and weight to 28,000 pounds. Trucks are also limited to speed by classes. ranging from 10 miles per hour for heavy grades to 20 miles for lighter grades.

Sworn statements that applicants for licenses are physically able to operate cars are required when applications are made for licenses, certain qualifications as to vision, hearing and use of hands being necessary. Authority to have special examinations is given.

The code contains penalties for destruction of identifying marks and requires records to be kept by garage keepers of cars left for storage or repair.

The "second-hand car" bill requires complete description with bills of sale statements as to ownership and changes made in the car. all to be sworn, one copy to be filed with the State Highway Commisioners and one with the Chief of Police or Clerk of Quarter Sesions Court. Opera-

BIG DECREASE IN NUMBER OF ARRESTS

Only 49 arrests were made by the police of Connellsville in July as compared with 154 in June. The drop to 30 per cent of pre-prohibition figures is believed almost wholly due to stoppage of the liquor traffic.

HANDSOME CHURCH FOR CONNELLSVILLE

The Methodist Episcopal church of Connellsville will erect a church building to cost $200,000. Work on the new structure is expected to begin some time next spring. The site for the new building has been purchaased.

James J. Rossbottom arrived home Saturday from Philadelphia, Pa., and left Wednesday in company with John T. Kelly for Los Angeles, California, where they will engage in the automobile business.

FIGHTING BOLSHEVISM.

Bolshevism!

Military officers who saw how it worked out in the Russian prison camp at Cellelager, Germany, advocate it heartily, one of the officers declaring that "Bolshevism and American football cannot exist in the same camp."

American football was introduced among the six thousand Russians barracked at Cellelager by the Y. M. C. A., which organization also added English cricket and Swedish gymnastics to the Russians' athletic menu.

When the Y first tried to start something at Cellelager along the sport line, the Russians were interested but wanted to play the role of spectator. As an attraction to gain their interest, the Y offered prizes of socks, safety razors, etc., to the men who won the various events scheduled for the "Sport Festival." At once the Russians became eager to enter the events, and W. Russell Taylor, a Y secretary, who told how American football wiped out Bolshevism there, gave this report of the field day at the camp:

"Imagine some five thousand Russians, or practically the entire camp, gathered in one huge circle around the large football field, which has been selected as the most appropriate spot for the occasion. Picture this on an ideal summer afternoon—fine weather not to hot. Then picture groups of Russians competing in the 1000 meter race, the shorter races, the three-legged and bag races, in a blind shot at the suspended waterpot game, all accompanitd by the loudest laughs and cheers on the part of their comrades in the sport, even though these latter were but spectators, and all this succeeded by competitions in the pole vault, running high and broad jumps, and demonstrations on the parallel and horizontal bars.

"Cellelager is quite keen on athletic sports and games. The Russians readily took to our game of volley ball when I introduced it in camp. They play football with equal avidity, and have regular teams organized for this purpose. We have thus supplied them with ample athletic materials in the shape of footballs, two sets of volley balls, and the allied equipments. We have also introduced the Russians to cricket from sets received through the Berne office."

AN ACCURATE INDEX.

When one thousand people occupy the seats and standing room of the galleries of the United States Senate we have a composite audience that represents accurately the sentiment of the Nation as a whole. When that audience rises to its feet, claps, cheers and stamps approvel at the close of a speech denouncing the league of nations and appealing for the support of unadulterated Americanism, it is an accurate indication of the death of popular feeling that is sweeping over the country. And when that same gathering hisses and boos another Senator who indulges in a personal denunciation of the first speaker in an attempt to create sentiment for the league it shows the popular disgust for a man who will subordinate Americanism for internationalism.

The Senate witnessed those scenes when Senator Lodge closed his ringing appeal to patriotism, and when Senator Williams of Mississippi rose immediately after to undertake a defense of the league. Some of the members of the Fifth and Sixth Marines, who only a few minutes before had passed the President in a final review, occupied seats in the gallery, and banged their steel helmets on gallery seats in emphatic approval of Senator Lodge's words. It was a spontaneous outburst of patriotic fervor never before seen in the Senate chamber, and one which should have a profound effect on Senators sincerely seeking to ascertain public opinion on the league.

THE EARLY MORNING QUERY

Ever go down to the old furnace on a cold morning and find it out, dead out? Choked up with ashes and badly in need of attention! But when you shake it down you don't do it quickly and harshly and get it all out of "kilter." Then why take harsh purgatives and physics when your poor stomach is in the same condition? Don't try to regulate your bowels by these methods for you can't. No one can. Take one BA-HA-NI with your evening meal, not two, and in a few evenings note your regularity. No dreaded after effects. You can't have. BA-HA-NI is just a regulating laxative and a dandy! Get a 25c or 50c box today. Sold by Hennings Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.

RESIDENTS BUILDING COUNTRY HOMES

A large number of residents of Monessen have purchased small acreages back of that town and are preparing to build thereon. HOOVER BEGAN IT

President Wilson is entitled to all the consolation he can get out of the recollection that it was his man Hoover who gave the first official boost to the high cost of living. It was Hoover who asked the dining car stewards to cut down the quantity of food served, without asking them to cut the price at the same time.

tion is forbidden until such statement is filed when a car is sold.

Another new feature is that all dealers in used cars must take out a State license at an annual fee of $100 and be vouched for by two persons.

Various other provisions for tracing cars are made, while every garage keeper must keep records of all cars left with him. No one may have a car from which the identifying mark have been removed. Notice of discovery of tampering with such marks are required. The penalties range from $100 to $1,000.

Highway commissioner Sadler has given notice that the State would require observance of the act requiring lights on all moving vehicles at night including farm wagons. He also called attention to the law forbidding the use of traction or portable engines within 300 feet of a building unless equipped with spark arresters. There are fines of from $50 to $100 for violation.

With the signing of the bill regulating the transfer of second hand motor vehicles, trafficking in stolen motor cars in Pennsylvania becomes a perilous occupatnon. Mr. Sadler and George F. Lumb, Acting Superintendent of State Police declared that these provisions will be rigidly enforced.

"With the cooperation of the courts of Pennsylvania," said Mr. Sadler "we hope soon to put an end to the business of stealing automobiles, a business which seems to have been highly productive, judging from the police records throughout the State."

Captain Lumb issued the following statement:

"Every member of the State police force has been instructed to give particular attention to the enforcement of the Coy bill just signed by the Governor, and to the act which provides $5,000 fine and ten years imprsonment. We are determined to put an end to motor thieving in Pennsylvania. It is going to be as unhealthy to steal an automobile in this State as it used to be to steal horses in the far West."

The winning run was scored in the opening inning of the game, after Stokes, the Monongahela pitcher had struck Boucher out. Joe Guder, catching for Monongahela, dropped the ball, and Boucher subsequently scored. Both pitchers were on their mettle, Braithwood having nine strike outs, while Stokes had 14. The game went the full nine innings, and was one of the fastest games so far played in the series.

With the exception of bacon, there appears to have been practically no demand for the army canned meats, almost all of the orders placed calling for vegetables and cherries.

A WOMAN'S TESTIMONY

Mrs. Ettie Warren, a farmer's wife of Emmittsburg, Md., openly declares how she has found health through reading a newspaper advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So great is her relief after fifteen years of suffering that she asks to have this information published.

PROCEEDURE FOR NATURALIZATION OF DISCHARGED SOLDIERS.

An honorably discharged soldier desiring to be naturalized should communicate with the Chief Naturalization Examiner in the district in which he is located, giving him:

1. His name in full.
2. Address.
3. Date of discharge.
4. Whether he had been finally accepted for military service or only discharged from the draft.

On July 19, 1919, the naturalization law was changed so that now an honorably discharged soldier does not have to pay the customary $4 fee and does not need a certificate of arrival even though he came to the United States after June 29, 1906. Hitherto their petitions had to be filed in the court the usual 90 days before the final hearing. A preliminary examination of the soldier-applicant must, however, be made by one of the Examiners from the office of the Chief Naturalization Examiner before the petition for naturalization is filed in the court. The Chief Naturalization Examiner will give appropriate instructions to the discharged soldier, including the date when and the place where he should appear. He will need two witnesses, citizens of the United States, to identify him as the person mentioned in the honorable discharge.

This same procedure should be followed in the case of those men who prepared petitions for naturalization before the military authorities while overseas as final action has been taken on very few of the "overseas petitions."

The Chief Naturalization Examiner, 402 Federal Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., has charge of all the as far east as the counties of McKean Elk, Clearfield, Blair and Bedford; all counties east of these counties are in the jurisdiction of the Chief Naturalization Examiner, Federal Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

Procedure for Those Who Were Actually Naturalized While in the Service.

Those who were actually naturalized by having their cases finally passed upon by the Judge of the court at or near one of the camps, who have not yet received their certificates of citizenship, should write a letter on the attached form to the Commissioner of Naturalization, Washington, D. C., to whom their certificates were sent for safe keeping during the term of service, asking him to forward the certificate. This procedure does not apply to those who merely prepared petitions while overseas or who prepared petitions in the camps which were never finally acted upon. The procedure first above stated should be followed in such cases.

MANY FOREIGNERS

ports are available for natives of Germany, Austria Hungaria or Bulgaria.

"Seventy-five per cent of the unnaturalized foreigners in the coke region will return to the old country as soon as passports are obtainable," is the estimate of another steamship representative. "Many of them want to search for relatives that they have not heard from since the outbreak of the war, but the chief reason for desiring to return given to us, is their desire for beverages with a kick. These men are great beer drinkers and they have no love for the substitutes being marketed instead of beer."

Of the population of Fayette county from one-third to one-half is foreign born. In Brownsville, it was discovered during the registration of males from 31 to 45 for military service last fall, that scarcely half of those registered were native born or naturalized. The coke towns are inhabited chiefly by aliens.

Business men report a marked falling off in sales in Brownsville since prohibition became effective. Formerly, the desire for drink brought the foreigners to town with fat wallets. Their drink made them light hearted and free with their money. If the wife was along she got a new dress, or shoes, or things for the children.

Now, pay days come and go and the foreigners stay home.

Employers report less time lost as a result of pay day drunks, and increased production, but are apprehensive of the emigration movement.

Good Ends Require Good Means.

Let no man turn aside, ever so slightly, from the broad path of honor, on the plausible pretense that he is justified by the goodness of his end. All good ends can be worked out by good means. Those that cannot, are bad; and may be counted so at once, and left alone.—Charles Dickens in "Barnaby Rudge."

WOMAN'S CASE AMAZES CHARLEROI

A business man's wife could not sew or read without sharp pains in her eyes. For years her eyes were red and weak. Finally she tried simple witchhazel, camphora, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. The result produced by a single bottle amazed everyone. We guarantee a small bottle Lavoptik to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Aluminum eye cup FREE. Piper Brothers.

FAYETTE CITY LOST TO THE COLLEGIANS

The Pittsburgh Collegian baseball team defeated the Fayette City team on the grounds of the latter Tuesday evening, by a score of 9 to3. The Collegians got eight hits and the Fayette City team 4.

BASE BALL IN EUROPE.

Brussels won the pennant in the Belgium-Holland Baseball League, and the 200 American soldiers stationed here are duly elated. Antwerp, which has the headquarters for the Antwerp-Rotterdam base of the S. O. S., got second place, and Rotterdam and The Hague brought up in the rear. All the boys are happy, however, for they feel they have done important missionary work in these from a baseball angle, benighted lands. They not only have made the crack of the bat ring thrillingly over Flanders fields and Holland dikes, but have awakened in the breasts of the citizens of these countries the rudiments of understanding and yearning for America's grand old game. The Belgians and Hollanders have progressed to such a point that they understand baseball about as well as the average American woman does. More important, the Belgian boys have begun "batting 'em up" on the commons, and the Dutch kids are playing "Andy over" over the canals.

Frank M. Paul, Y. M. C. A. athletic director for the base section, brought about these results. Paul organized a league with seven clubs among the soldiers at Antwerp, Brussels, Rotterdam and The Hague, and the sailors plying between Rotterdam and Hamburg and Danzig.

It was a real baseball league, even to the unofficial nomenclature of the clubs. The Rotterdam soldiers were called the "Old Dutch Cleansers," the Brussels boys were known as the "Sproutville Nine," the team from The Hague "the Doveys" and so on.

The boys in Holland were greatly handicapped by their inability to obtain playing and practice grounds. Near Rotterdam, for example, it is hard to find a piece of ground a hundred yards square which is not bisected by at least three water ditches. An outfielder finds it discouraging to fall into a canal every time he goes after a long fly. The Rotterdam nine always practiced in bathing suits. The canals, however, came in handy for ducking umpires, and the Rotterdam boys had as much fun out of the league as did anybody.

GREASING THE SKIDS.

"All that is arbitrary and coercive" declaimed the President, "is in the discard. Those who seek to employ it only prepare their own destruction." How true, and yet the reader may find a different application for the warning than that in the President's mind when he typed the words.

CROSSAN COMPANY GETS BIG CONTRACT

The Crossan Construction company which is doing a large amount of work in the Brownsville section, received a telegram Tuesday from the State Highway department announcing that they were the lowest bidders on a piece of road four miles in length in Cecil township, this county, between Canonsburg and McDonald which is to be built this fall of brick and concrete. The bid was $213.000.

To boil an egg, you first catch the egg. Never take any of the 13 eggs under the hen. Having caught the egg, prepare a kettle of water hot enough to shave with, but don't stop to shave. You continue to heat the water while peeling the egg. An egg should be peeled from left to right, always, as otherwise you peel against the grain. Catch the water at precisely 760 degrees Fahrenheit, which you can ascertain by inserting the index finger in the kettle. Then with hammer, nails, and tongue-and-groove boards construct a small chute, or slide, which you can attach to the ceiling, leaving the lower end to swing in the kettle. You then roll the peeled egg down the chute into the water. You may then throw away the chute. Allow the egg to boil until completely finished, soft, medium, or adamant, to suit the taste. Pour off the water, lift the egg gently but insistently, allow to cool, then serve.—Tit-Bits.
